Washing and Handling for PREMIER Table linen

When you wash: Do not overload equipment. Follow the manufacturer's instructions for loading to insure proper agitation is accomplished. Overloading leads to less efficient stain removal and unnecessary wrinkling. Set temperature no higher than necessary. 140 to 165 degrees Fahrenheit should give good results. If it is necessary to bleach colors, it is recommended that only hydrogen peroxide be used. Avoid softeners as they can cause damage.

When you extract: Keep extraction time short (30 to 60 seconds), at high speed to minimize wrinkles. Avoid hydraulic or press extraction whenever possible.

When you dry: Do not overload equipment. Follow the manufacturer's instructions for loading to insure proper air circulation is accomplished. Do not exceed 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Do not over dry. Generally drying time should run only 5 to 10 minutes. For best results to minimize wrinkles, remove linen while slightly warm, place flat and/or fold promptly. Never remove when hot. This will cause thermal and compression wrinkles.
